

Ethics Policy of AIMS Journal of Management (AJM)

The ethics policy of AJM is based on the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE) guidelines and complies with AJM's Editorial Board codes of conduct. Readers, authors, reviewers and editors associated with AJM should follow these ethics policy guidelines. The ethics policy of AJM is liable to determine which of the research papers or articles submitted to the journal should be published in the concerned issue.

Duties and Responsibilities of

Publisher of AJM is -

- promising to ensure that the decision on manuscript submissions is only made based on professional judgment and will not be affected by any commercial interests.
- committed to maintain the integrity of academic and research records.
- monitoring the ethics by Chairman - Editorial Board, Executive Editor, Co-Editors, Editorial Board Members, Reviewers, Authors, and Readers.
- always checking the plagiarism and fraudulent data issues involved in the submitted manuscript.
- always willing to publish corrections, clarifications and retractions involving its publications as and when needed.

Editors of AJM -

- have the full authority to reject/accept a manuscript.
- maintain the confidentiality of submitted manuscripts under review or until they are published.
- take a decision on submitted manuscripts, whether to be published or not in consultation with reviewers.
- preserve the anonymity of reviewers.
- disclose and try to avoid any conflict of interest.
- maintain academic integrity and strive to meet the needs of readers and authors.
- investigate plagiarism and fraudulent data issues and willing to publish corrections, clarifications, retractions, and apologies when needed.
- limit themselves only to the intellectual content.
- Unpublished materials disclosed in a submitted paper will not be used by the editor or the members of the editorial board for their own research purposes without the author's explicit written consent.

Ethics Policy of AIMS Journal of Management (AJM)

The ethics policy of AJM is based on the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE) guidelines and complies with AJM's Editorial Board codes of conduct. Readers, authors, reviewers and editors associated with AJM should follow these ethics policy guidelines. The ethics policy of AJM is liable to determine which of the research papers or articles submitted to the journal should be published in the concerned issue.

Authors

- Manuscripts must be submitted only in English and should be written according to sound grammar and proper terminology.
- Manuscripts must be submitted with the understanding that they have not been published elsewhere (except in the form of an abstract or as part of a published lecture, review, or thesis) and are not currently under consideration by another journal published by or any other publisher.
- The submitting/corresponding author is responsible for ensuring that the article's publication has been approved by all the other co-authors.
- It is a condition for submission of a manuscript that the authors permit editing of the paper for readability.
- Authors are required to clearly identify who provided financial support for the conduct of research and/or preparation of the manuscript and briefly describe the role of the founder/sponsor in any part of the work.
- A copyright release form must be signed by the corresponding author in case of multiple authorship, prior to the acceptance of the manuscript, by all authors, for publication to be legally responsible towards the Journal ethics and privacy policy.
- Under open access license, authors retain ownership of the copyright for their content, but allow anyone to download, reuse, re-print, distribute, and/or copy the content as long as the original authors and source are cited properly.
- When author(s) discovers a significant error or inaccuracy in his/her own published work, it is the author's obligation to promptly notify the journal editor or publisher to retract or correct the manuscript.
- All authors must know that the submitted manuscripts under review or published in AJM are subject to screening using Plagiarism Prevention Software. Plagiarism is a serious violation of publication ethics.

Ethics Policy of AIMS Journal of Management (AJM)

The ethics policy of AJM is based on the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE) guidelines and complies with AJM's Editorial Board codes of conduct. Readers, authors, reviewers and editors associated with AJM should follow these ethics policy guidelines. The ethics policy of AJM is liable to determine which of the research papers or articles submitted to the journal should be published in the concerned issue.

Principles of transparency

- Peer review process: AJM is a peer reviewed electronic and print bi-annual publication concerned with all aspects of management and social sciences.
- The step-wise procedure followed for peer review process of AJM is as under:
 - (i) After receiving a paper, an overview is taken to ensure that it falls within the scope of the journal.
 - (ii) If a paper is falling within the scope of AJM, the manuscript is forwarded to the Library for similarity (plagiarism) check by using Urkund.
 - (iii) If a paper has similarity (plagiarism) within 10 percent, then it is forwarded to two subject experts for review without disclosing the names of authors and their affiliations.
 - (iv) The reviewers are requested to place the paper in one of the following categories:
 - (a) Accepted
 - (b) Accepted with minor revision
 - (c) Rejected
 - (v) The decision is communicated to the authors accordingly. In case of category (b), the authors are given time to revise the paper in the light of suggestions given by a reviewer or both the reviewers, without disclosing the names of reviewers.
 - (vi) In the case of (a), the paper is included in one of the forthcoming issues of the journal.
 - (vii) In the case of (b), the paper is included in one of the forthcoming issues of the journal after receiving revised manuscript from the author/s.
- Editorial Board: AJM has very strong editorial board, whose members are recognized experts in the subject areas included within the journal's scope. The full names and affiliations of the journal's editors are provided on the journal's Web site.
- Contact information: Journal provides the contact information for the editorial office of AJM.
- Author fees / Access: The Journal database is fully open access and full text of published articles are available for everyone who can get access to the Journal website free of cost. Besides, the authors are not required to pay any charges for

Ethics Policy of AIMS Journal of Management (AJM)

The ethics policy of AJM is based on the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE) guidelines and complies with AJM's Editorial Board codes of conduct. Readers, authors, reviewers and editors associated with AJM should follow these ethics policy guidelines. The ethics policy of AJM is liable to determine which of the research papers or articles submitted to the journal should be published in the concerned issue.

- submission, article processing and publication.
- Copyright: Journal has made it clear the type of copyright under which authors work will be published. Upon acceptance of manuscript, authors will be asked to complete a Copyright Form.
- Identification of and dealing with allegations of research misconduct: The Chairman – Editorial Board takes reasonable steps to identify and prevent the publication of papers where research misconduct has occurred, including plagiarism, citation manipulation, and data falsification/fabrication, among others.
- Journal's Website: <https://aimsjournal.com/> contains a statement to the effect that appropriate care is being taken to ensure high ethical and professional standards.
- Name of journal: The Journal's name AIMS Journal of Management (AJM) is unique and is not one that is easily confused with another journal.
- Conflicts of interest: Authors are required to specify whether impending conflicts do or do not exist while submitting their articles to AJM through Conflict of Interest Disclosure.
- Publishing schedule: The periodicity at which the journal is published is clearly indicated as bi-annual (twice a year).